Websites:

Coming of Age in the Holocaust, Coming of Age Now

<http://comingofagenow.org/>

This site features "an interactive curriculum focused on twelve stories of young people who survived the Holocaust and one person who grew up in the Mandate of Palestine during the same period." Students will read survivor stories and watch video testimonies, explore primary source material, examine timelines and maps, hold online discussions, and work on projects. In addition, the site features a glossary and extensive resource page.

Note: The "interactive" part of the curriculum requires free enrollment via the website. However, some content is available online without this.

History Place, The

Holocaust Timeline

(other timelines include The Triumph of Hitler, Hitler Youth, & The Rise of Adolph Hitler)

Includes hyperlinks to articles, archival photos, maps, and audio clips. Incredibly detailed with specific dates (some more recent years are listed during which significant war trials occurred) and little-known facts. Useful in classroom for collocation of archival material.

Holocaust Teacher Resource Center

<http://www.holocaust-trc.org/home.htm>

"The Holocaust Teacher Resource Center (TRC) web site...strives to combat prejudice and bigotry by transforming the horrors of the Holocaust into positive lessons to help make this a better and safer world for everybody." This site features resources for Kindergarten through College. Included are curricula, publications, bibliographies, reviews, links, and more.

International Conference on Holocaust Education

<http://www1.yadvashem.org/yv/en/education/conference/2012/index.asp>

The International School for Holocaust Studies hosts a biennial conference on Holocaust education. You can find abstracts and video of presentations from 2004 - date.

Museum of Tolerance, The

<http://www.museumoftolerance.com>

"Recipient of the Global Peace and Tolerance Award from the Friends of the United Nations, the Museum of Tolerance (MOT) is a human rights laboratory and educational center dedicated to challenging visitors to understand the Holocaust in both historic and contemporary contexts and confront all forms of prejudice and discrimination in our world today." This site has an extensive Teacher Resource section that breaks down content standards for Elementary & Middle/High School and includes resources like the "Children of the Holocaust Section" that gives individual profiles of children.

Includes access to digital archives and a program called "Ask a Survivor" where students and teachers can type in a question and the museum forwards them to be "responded to directly by a survivor of the Holocaust."

Portraits of Zinkov

<http://www.alanzolashulman.com/>

Artist Alan Shulman has created a series of 52 paintings featuring residents of the town of Zinkov, Ukraine. A brief biography explains the importance of each; some survived the Holocaust, others perished. Includes study questions.

South Carolina ETV Holocaust Forum, The

http://www.sctv.org/education/holocaust_forum/index.cfm

"Thanks to a grant from the South Carolina Council on the Holocaust, ETV created a forum on the Holocaust to provide teachers access to a variety of resources when teaching their students about this tragic chapter from human history."
